STAR PLAYERS WILL QUIT NEW YORK CLUB.

Joe McGinnity and Others Say John T. Brush Has Not Lived Up to Promises Made Them.

lose of the season, and a disruption of ball on the Coast.

Joe McGinnity says he will quit the same and play in a California league. Roger Bresnahan is another, it is said, who will not be seen on the New York team next year. Other players, while having expressed dissatisfaction at their treatment this year, do not threaten, to quit, but before spring comes Johnny McGraw may find it hard to get together the championship team which he was expected to show.

All season McGraw had a hard time handling Bresnahan. Roger always complained of being imposed upon, and only by coaxing was he persuaded at times to work. McGraw, in yiew of that, has been negotiating to trade the Giants great batter for "Si" Seymour, of the Cincinnati Club. McGinnity's Complaint.

Joe McGinnity is the only Giant who so far has said anythins for publication. He is at the Brighton Beach race track every day and it was there that he unfolded his tale of dissatisfaction to an Evening World reporter.

"When the season began," said McGinnity, John T. Brush and other officiate of the club were bade after the would make us all a present. Besides that he promised us the would make us all a present. Besides that he promised us the his world. We say no presents, and, what is more, for the exhibition games we played each of us got the insignificant, sum of 355,35;

"Wy appreciate the fact that Mr. Brush and other and others interested financially in the club were bader a heavy expense, but at that we figured they cleared over $200,000.

"When we did not get what we were promised we asked Mr. Brush if he world do nothing, as the field had been rented to Columbia University. The officials of the college football team to interfere with their football schedule. Even then Brush and his partners refused to help us and we got not help us and we got not the football schedule. Even then Brush and his partners refused to help us and we got not not necessary and the world is we could use the grounds if we did not interfere with their football schedule. The challenger this time will not be Sir Thomas Lipton, who has made three unsuccessful trials, but John Lever, a millionaire manufacturer, of Birken-head, England. It is understood, howwer, that Sir Thomas will work in onjunction with him, and give him the enefit of his experience in cup matter Mr. Lever has capital in plenty, an will have the best boat England can produce to bring across the Atlantic. To "lift the cup" has been Mr. Lever's ambition for several years. He wa about to challenge when he heard that Sir Thomas would make the third stempt, and agreed to step aside in his favor. He is a member of several im favor. He is a member of several important clubs, but it is probable that he will challenge in the name of the Royal Clyde Yacht Club.

It is not likely the New York Yacht Club will build a new defender. The Reliance is considered almost perfect, and made such a runeway race of it from Shamrock III. that American yachtsmen trust in her to keep the cup safe. The same conditions that governed the last series of races are acceptable to Mr. Lever.

SHECKARD IN DEMAND.

Jimmy Sheckard, the fast outfielder o the Brooklyn team, is much sought by managers of various teams. Before Jimmy took his team on its barnstorm ing trip he told the writer he had re oeived offers from National and American league teams, and that they were higher than those made by Hanlon. Sheekard would like to play in New York under McGraw's management next season.
